with the UOWx Award

This Award is given to students in recognition of the substantial contribution they have made to the University community through their commitment to learning and development beyond the classroom. They have proactively undertaken extensive opportunities to complement their academic coursework and have completed a comprehensive program of professional development. The student has demonstrably increased their knowledge and capabilities via active participation in workshops and seminars; has applied their learnings through practical roles; and has reflected on how these experiences have contributed to their personal and professional development. These activities have extended the student's skills, attributes and personal qualities, preparing them to contribute positively to society and to their future workplaces.
